(3) A creditor of a beneficiary (including the settlor) may not compel or force a distribution with regard to a discretionary interest in an international trust, nor compel or force a trustee to exercise the trustee’s discretion to make a distribution with regard to a discretionary interest in an international trust.

(4) A creditor of a beneficiary (including the settlor) may not compel or force a protector to exercise a power to direct a trustee to make a distribution to any beneficiary of an international trust.

(6) A creditor of a beneficiary (including the settlor) may not maintain an action or a proceeding in Court that interferes with the trustee’s discretion to apply income or principal on behalf of the beneficiary of an international trust.

(7) A creditor of a beneficiary (including the settlor) may not obtain an order of attachment, garnishment or similar relief that would prevent a trustee from making a discretionary payment to a third party on behalf of the beneficiary (including the settlor) of an international trust.

(8) In this section, a beneficiary’s entitlement (or lack thereof) to a distribution is within the discretion of a trustee, whether or not the trust deed states the purposes for the distribution, is expressed in the form of a standard of distribution or uses the terms ‘may’, ‘shall’, ‘sole and absolute’, ‘uncontrolled’, ‘unfettered’, or similar words and whether or not the trustee has abused the discretion.

(9) Regardless of whether a beneficiary of an international trust has any outstanding creditor, a trustee of a discretionary interest may directly pay any expense on behalf of such beneficiary and may exhaust the income and principal of the trust for the benefit of such beneficiary. No trustee is liable to any creditor for paying the expenses of a beneficiary (including the settlor) who holds a discretionary interest.

(10)(a) In this section, ‘discretionary interest’ means a beneficiary’s interest in an international trust if the beneficiary’s entitlement to a distribution is within the discretion of the trustee.”
